I Belinda Karen Heard am of the opinion that the PCBU has contravened the WHS legislation relating to:
Contravention	More information	Was the contravention rectified?
Not maintaining a safe work environment	PCBU converted fridge into a freezer. The door is not suitable for use. The freezer leaks water onto thoroughfares, produce area and through to bathroom walls and floors. Excessive water on floor poses slip hazard. PCBU using anti-slip mat as control measure, but it does not cover the area of water. There is a significant amount of black mould in and around the freezer and walls due to water leaking. Control measure used is mould spray several times a week.	No
Not maintaining safe plant and structures	Freezer door freezes shut. This has been reported internally every week since 26 Feb 2022. PCBU 'fixed' freezer door week before Christmas 23 but it has now broken again and freezes over. This has been reported internally. Injury reported due to exertion when pulling the door.	No

	Shelving in the freezer is made of makeshift wooden shelves and flooring is wood. The floor often freezes over inside freezer. Worker reported during visit having slipped on ice.
Unsafe use, handling and storage of plant, structures and substances	Workers resorted to use of mallet to open the freezer door when it freezes over.	No
